Subject: National Day of Mourning – April 28
Number of Pages: 3

Recommendation(s)

That Community Services-2024-06 entitled National Day of Mourning prepared by Jake Morassut, Director, Community Services dated April 15, 2024, be received.

Purpose

The Town of Essex will observe National Day of Mourning by lowering all town owned flags to half-mast, committing to staff training for health and safety, and promoting workplace health and safety information via social media.

Background and Discussion

In 1991, eight years after the day of remembrance was launched by the Canadian Labour Congress, the Parliament of Canada passed the Workers Mourning Day Act making April 28 an official Day of Mourning. Today, the Day of Mourning has since spread to more than 100 countries around the world and is recognized as Workers' Memorial Day, and as International Workers' Memorial Day by the International Labour Organisation (ILO) and the International Trade Union Confederation (ITUC).

Acknowledging this day will help strengthen the resolve to establish safe and healthy conditions in the workplace, and prevent further injuries, illnesses, and deaths. As much as this is a day to remember those who have lost their lives, it is also a call to protect the living and make work a place where people are safe and can thrive.

According to the Association of Workers' Compensation Boards of Canada (AWCBC), in 2021, there were 1,081 workplace fatalities recorded in Canada, 1,009 of which were male workers, and 72 were female workers. Among these deaths were 18 young workers aged 15-24.

Add to these fatalities the 277,217 accepted claims (an increase of 23,820 from the previous year) for lost time due to a work-related injury or disease, including 34,548 from workers aged 15-24, and the fact that these statistics only include what is reported and accepted by the compensation boards, there is no doubt that the total number of workers impacted is even greater.

And it's not just these numbers on which we need to reflect. With each worker tragedy there are loved ones, family members, friends and co-workers who are directly affected, left behind, and deeply impacted – their lives also forever changed.

Traditionally on April 28th the Canadian flag has flown at half-mast on Parliament Hill and on all federal government buildings. Employers and workers have observed Day of Mourning in a variety of ways over the years. Some have lit candles, laid wreaths, worn commemorative pins, ribbons or black armbands, and paused for a moment of silence.

The Town of Essex will show their support and commitment to a safe workplace by lowering the flags to half-mast at all Town owned facilities on April 28th, and by being diligent in ensuring staff are trained, specifically new youth employees that will start summer employment in early May. In addition, the Town will promote the social media messages from different organizations, such as the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety. By sharing these messages, the Town of Essex is reminding people to put health and safety at the forefront of their work and help to prevent further work-related injuries and loss of life.

The information contained within this report was gathered from the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety.
